

Contents

Preface VII

Catherine Z. Elgin

Imaginative Investigations: Thought Experiments in Science, Philosophy and Literature 1

Gottfried Gabriel

The Cognitive Value and Ethical Relevance of Fictional Literature 17

Christiane Schildknecht

Fiction as Thought Experiment? 31

Falk Bornmüller and Mathis Lessau

Are Thought-Experiments Always Arguments and Does Literature Literally
Re-present? 43

Julia Langkau

Thought Experiments from Fiction 57

Wolfgang Huemer

Power and Limits of a Picture: On the Notion of Thought Experiments in Philosophy of Literature 71

Arne Willée

Thought Experiments as a Narrative Genre 83

Eva-Maria Konrad

Counterfactual Literature as Thought Experiment 97

Katja Hettich

The Literary Thought Experiment as Emotional Experience: Émile Zola's
Thérèse Raquin (1867) 109

Íngrid Vendrell Ferran

Narrative Fiction as Philosophical Exploration: A Case Study on Self-Envy and Akrasia 123

Giulia Agostini

Projecting Spaces of Thought: The Geometrical Figure in the Works of Samuel Beckett and Julio Cortázar 139

Alexander Fischer

Guinea Pigs in a Terrarium? Albert Camus' The Plague as a Thought Experiment 155

Sophia Alt, Caterina Brand, Vanessa Haazipolo

The Physicists by Friedrich Dürrenmatt – a Paradoxical Thought Experiment about Scientific Responsibility 171

Stephan Packard

Conjugations of the ›What If‹: Golden Age Science Fiction: From Thought Experiment to Narrative Critique 185

Loreen Dalski

The Epistemic Potential of Boredom: Wilhelm Genazino's If we were animals as a Thought Experiment 203

Johannes Franzen

Alternate Lives: Autofictional Thought Experiments in Lunar Park by Bret Easton Ellis 217